Proposition for Evangelist.

"I will undertake the business of a Boston Editorship if you will pay me what the City Mission did the last year, viz $800 per year, I will advance me two of the eight hundred now; & for this I will undertake to keep you fully advised of all important movements here; will take up & prepare as soon as I can a series of letters on the religious history of Boston, I will continue from time to time my foreign correspondence. In other terms, I will furnish an average of a column & a half <sup>or more</sup> of matter of one sort or another, each week, for the sum named. Including the reports of public meetings &c. it is quite likely it will amount to more - I will engage it shall not be less, except you desire it. And from the time this arrangement shall go into effect, if at all, I will expect no other compensation for my foreign letters - they, therefore, being a part of the Boston Editorship."
